What a charming plan - both inside and out. Wood siding and a covered porch grace the facade and hint at the fine floor plan inside. The main entry opens to a center hall and shows living areas on the left side and bedrooms on the right.

The living room has a fireplace and is defined by columns that separate it from the hall and dining area. Sliding glass doors in the dining room lead outside. An L-shaped kitchen has an island work center and window sink. The sleeping area includes two family bedrooms with a shared bath and a master suite with walkin closet and private bath with dual sinks.

The two-car garage faces front and is reached via a service entry with space for a washer and dryer. Note the hall linen and coat closets.
